Health Centers Receive Highest OMB Rating

The US Office of Management and Budget (OMB), together with Federal agency partners, assesses the performance of all Federal programs to make sure they are working well for the American people. The tool OMB uses for this assessment, the Program Assessment Rating Tool (PART), includes 25 questions addressing the program's purpose and objectives, strategic planning, management, and program results. The results of this questionnaire are used to give a rating of Effective, Moderately Effective, Adequate, or Ineffective, and are then used to develop a program improvement plan.

Health Centers recently received a rating of Effective, the highest rating a program can achieve. According to OMB, programs that receive an Effective rating "set ambitious goals, achieve results, are well-managed and improve efficiency." The program improvement plan includes:

- ★ Implementing a program-wide collection of core quality of care and health outcome performance measures, including hypertension and diabetes-related outcomes, from all grantees by 2009.
- ★ Working with Congress to reauthorize the Health Centers Program.
- ★ Conducting a national survey of Health Center users, in collaboration with the National Center for Health Statistics, in order to expand and update information on program performance and impact.

Read more about OMB ratings and learn about specific assessment details for Health Centers at <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/expectmore/summary/10000274.2007.html>.

MPCN Steering Committee 2007 Achievements & Open Positions

The MPCN Steering Committee plays a vital role in supporting Region VIII clinicians by guiding CHAMPS' clinical programs to ensure that these programs and other clinical services meet the needs and challenges of MPCN. Many thanks to the MPCN Steering Committee members for providing suggestions and guidance that facilitated the development of these 2007 Achievements:

- ★ A teleconference addressing immunization guidelines, coverage, and billing
- ★ A Region VIII CHC Clinician's Listserv
- ★ Clinical webcasts focused on obesity management, gestational diabetes, and tobacco cessation
- ★ A three-day face-to-face Spanish Language Intensive Training for health professionals
- ★ Clinically themed Annual Primary Care Conference sessions addressing obesity, behavioral health, chronic pain, and oral health problems of methamphetamine users

Region VIII clinicians, would you like to help guide the development of future CHAMPS products and services? The MPCN Steering Committee has committee positions open for CHC providers working in Colorado, North Dakota, and Wyoming. As an MPCN Steering Committee member, you'll have the opportunity to meet and network with colleagues while guiding clinical programs and offerings throughout Region VIII. Steering Committee members are asked to participate in every other month, one-hour conference calls, and are invited to meet face-to-face at the Annual Primary Care Conference held each year in October. This is a wonderful opportunity to help shape MPCN, and for clinicians thinking of moving into management or politics in the future, participation on the MPCN Steering Committee "looks great on a resume".

Recruiting Hometown Medical and Dental Students

The National Association of Community Health Centers (NACHC) and AT Still University have partnered to open new dental and medical schools to assist with supplying primary care providers for health centers. Both schools are seeking community-minded applicants, and give preferential status to students applying through the Hometown Health Center Partnerships program. To be a part of this program, potential students must be recommended by health centers, and Region VIII health centers are encouraged to identify appropriate candidates, have them to submit applications for the class of 2008 by December 1, 2007, and write a letter of reference and support (forwarded to Gary Cloud, separate from the application). For more information, visit <http://www.atsu.edu/> and/or contact Gary Cloud at gcloud@atsu.edu.
