Your LifeValues Profile Quiz

The LifeValues Profile QUIZ will show you how your four LifeValues categories influence your decision-making. The results can help you start a conversation with a colleague, staff member, and even a family member. (Encourage the key individuals who participate in or influence your decision making to take the quiz as well.) That should help you improve your ability to work together, while maintaining your own identity as you make wise choices.

Expect your LifeValues categories (inner, physical, social and financial) to overlap. Bear in mind that there is no “wrong” answer. You are simply identifying your preferences. Remember that your answers are intensely personal—resist the urge to choose an answer someone else might believe is right for you. Quickly choose only one answer per statement. Record your answers in the space provided. Then, use the instructions that follow to interpret your score.
The LifeValues Profile Quiz

1. My decision about which vehicle to drive comes down to this main issue:
   a) My family members are on board with my decision, and the vehicle will serve all our needs as a family.
   b) I want a vehicle that is dependable and gets me where I’m going with the least amount of trouble.
   c) I’ll weigh the costs and benefits of each vehicle and choose the one that meets my budget.
   d) I make enough to be able to afford the vehicle I love to drive even if the gas mileage is not great.

2. One important priority I have in looking for my next home includes finding
   a) A place where I can make new friends (and/or my children can find friends and playmates).
   b) A home in a location where I can have more quiet and privacy.
   c) A home in a nice neighborhood that will appreciate in value.
   d) A home that has more space, more interesting amenities, or more modern features than my present home.

3. If I were to be late with a payment that would have serious credit consequences, I would worry most about a) My reputation and credit score
   b) How this mistake could possibly have occurred and what I need to do so it cannot happen again.
   c) Where I could obtain the money to make the payment.
   d) The impact this might have on my partner or family.

4. The fundamental reason for health insurance is, in my opinion
   a) To prevent bankruptcy or severe financial strain possibly due to medical bills.
   b) To be insured against loss of home, material things or lifestyle.
   c) To protect the wellbeing of family or loved ones.
   d) To allow life’s adventures to continue.

5. When I think about changing jobs, my main concern is
   a) Whether the new job would pay enough so I can cover the costs of my lifestyle
   b) Finding work that allows me to help others and enjoy my colleagues
   c) The total financial package: pay, health care and retirement
   d) Having opportunities for personal fulfillment and challenge in my work.

6. I tend to deal with my housing priorities
   a) In terms of lifestyle, reworking my ideas to learn what I really want for myself.
   b) On a bottom-line basis: Do I have enough to make a comfortable down payment? Can I handle the monthly payments without too much worry?
   c) In terms of physical space: Will it have enough amenities? Extra guest rooms? Closets?
   d) By regarding home as the center of my family and social life where I can entertain and my children can have their friends over.

7. In deciding what to do with a sudden cash windfall, I would
   a) Consider taking a trip around the world and enjoy myself thoroughly
   b) Investigate a variety of investment possibilities and the long-term return of each.
   c) Use it to fund a need, wish or desire of a family member.
   d) Buy a new house with all the amenities and comforts I’ve always wanted.

8. In case of serious accident or illness, my support network would likely be
a) Well-established and responsive.
b) Not readily accessible.
c) Something I haven't really thought about.
d) In place but loosely organized.

9. Any decisions I would make (or have already made) about planning for retirement are based on
   a) The future needs of my partner and adult children and grandchildren.
   b) The retirement calculations that I have made, which have given me a benchmark number toward which to target my savings for later life.
   c) My desire to live an intellectually and physically fulfilled life as an older adult.
   d) My ambition to maintain a comfortable lifestyle in a beautiful place and pleasant community during retirement.

10. To feel totally satisfied with my housing, I would need
    a) A place where I can live as I please and that reflects the “real me” to the outer world.
    b) To know my family was 100 percent satisfied and comfortable in the home in which we live.
    c) To know that my home represents a good investment as well as a comfortable place to live.
    d) A different location or more physical space to expand into than I have in my present home.

11. When it comes to “impulse purchases” of items not previously intended
    a) I reflect on whether I’ve treated myself lately and then make my decision.
    b) I recall the commitments I have made to others and consider whether I should buy the item.
    c) I tend to buy only what is on my list unless the item offers serious savings on something I know will be needed in the future.
    d) I think about how well it will fit in with what I already own and enjoy.

12. The definition of “health” most appropriate for me would be
    a) The ability to earn a living and maintain a lifestyle.
    b) Freedom to share the company and affection of others.
    c) The foundation of financial security and wealth accrual.
    d) Freedom to pursue my dreams and goals.

13. In making vacation plans, I weigh the value and cost mostly in light of
    a) The opportunity to share the trip with people (or someone) I care about and enjoy being with.
    b) The chance to see new places, architecture, cuisine, and lifestyles.
    c) Fulfilling my desires of being able to do whatever I please during my vacation.
    d) The likelihood that the enjoyment will be well worth my investment.

14. If I “fell in love with” and wanted to buy a really big-ticket item (boat, motorcycle, furniture suite) that was not within my budget
    a) I would figure out how to adjust my budget in order to be able to afford it if it were, in all ways, attractive to me.
    b) I would figure out a way to be able to afford something just like it at some future point.
    c) I might buy it on impulse and experience serious “buyer’s remorse” later.
    d) If I thought it would enhance my family life or give me greater access to friends, I would sacrifice to buy it—maybe even work extra—to be sure I could make all the payments.
15. When people visit my home and see my lifestyle
   a) They know that my family and community take priority in my life.
   b) They can learn a lot about who I am and what I care about.
   c) They cannot tell whether or not I am financially successful.
   d) They know I take great pride in the comfort and beauty of my home and its surroundings.

16. In general, I make life's serious, non-financial decisions
   a) Rationally and unemotionally, mostly as business decisions.
   b) Mostly on the basis of how they support quality of life and align with my budget.
   c) After discussing them with friends or family I trust.
   d) Independently and privately, unlikely to discuss them with others.

17. When I hear the word “security,” I automatically think of
   a) A lifestyle in which I have what I need to be comfortable over the long term.
   b) A diversified and sound investment portfolio and a home that is not mortgaged to the hilt.
   c) Family and friendships and a sense of community that will last for a lifetime, no matter what happens.
   d) Having achieved a sense of accomplishment and the freedom to be who I really am.

18. If a home gives me the “freedom” I need, that means I can
   a) Be independent, coming and going as I please and living my life as I see fit.
   b) Share many common interests with friends and family who live close by.
   c) Pay off my mortgage quickly because I would like to own it free and clear as soon as possible.
   d) Make any changes I would like to expand, remodel, improve or redecorate.

19. In my ideal financial position, I would have the freedom to
   a) Live my life independently without worry.
   b) Share in the activities my friends and family enjoy without stressing my budget.
   c) Keep my expenses as low as possible while building financial security for the future.
   d) Buy the things I like most and enjoy a comfortable lifestyle.

20. Given a choice of health care plans, a major criterion for me would be
   a) Having control over which medical providers I can use.
   b) A strong referral by a reliable friend or co-worker.
   c) Lower deductibles and co-pays for more extensive coverage.
   d) A health plan that emphasizes wellness and preventative care.

Scoring Your Profile Results

Now that you have completed the quiz, here is the key to determining which combination of decision factors tends to drive your financial decisions.

- I stands for inner values
- S stands for social values
- P stands for physical values
- F stands for financial values
Refer to the following list as you score your answers, keeping count of how many Is, Ss, Ps and Fs you have chosen.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>a. S</th>
<th>b. I</th>
<th>c. F</th>
<th>d. P</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>16</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>19</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>20</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>

Interpreting Your Score

A very high LifeValues score (above 9) and a lower LifeValues score (4 and below) clearly reveal dominant (high scores) and less important (low scores) decision drivers. Scores that are fairly even across all categories suggest that the four domains are balanced in your life. Neither situation is preferable to the other. The point is simply to understand how and why you decide as you do.

In general, your scores can be interpreted in this way:

1. Inner LifeValues (Your “I” Score). If you scored very high here, you value identity, autonomy, safety and security. Taking charge of your finances can give you the peace of mind you require in a dynamic global village and a challenging economy. You prefer to make your own decisions as a means of self-expression. A very low “I” score suggests that you might see your financial decisions through the eyes of someone else, perhaps deferring to someone else’s expectations about your earning, spending, saving and investment patterns. Consider whether that type of decision making is actually providing comfort for you.

2. Social Life Values (Your “S” Score). A high S score usually indicates that your chief concerns involve family needs or preferences of friends. Are you caring for an aging parent, saving for a child’s college fund, or trying to keep pace with an active social circle? Individuals with high S scores generally live and finance interactive, perhaps supportive, lifestyles. A very low S score, on the other hand, might indicate that you live alone, enjoy solitude, and really value financial independence.

3. Physical Life Values (Your “P” Score). A high P score suggests concern with your health and physical surroundings, perhaps your home or the home you dream of owning. Wise financial planning will support your attempts to maintain a comfortable lifestyle, enjoying the tangible benefits you value. A high P score also indicates an interest in comfort and beauty beyond mere functionality. A very low P score might indicate you are always on the go, more interested in experience than environment, one who tends not to collect “things.”

4. Financial Life Values (Your “F” Score). If you scored high in this category, financial management is probably important to you already, or you are strongly inclined to learn to handle your finances more effectively. Developing your financial skills will honor this value and maximize your knowledge and interest in things financial. If you scored very low in the F category, you probably make your financial decisions impulsively or at least subjectively. You might be using money to satisfy your social or physical preferences, and that’s just fine as long as you can afford to do this. Consider as well that you might be neglecting your need to save, invest and spend wisely because these concerns are not of high enough value to you.

Interpreting a Balanced Life Values Profile

Scoring fairly evenly across all categories suggests a balance among relationships and independence, community and privacy. It might mean that you value your job for everything it offers: great co-workers, good compensation, and pleasant working conditions. You are probably handling your earning, spending and saving habits well—or at least well enough to provide a sense of comfort. Each category impacts your capacity for decision-making.

Interpreting Higher and Lower Scores

For scores in particular domains that reach 9 or higher, refer to Table 1, High Scores that follows to help you understand how that domain helps drive your financial and other decisions:
Table 1. High Scores

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>High I Score</th>
<th>High S Score</th>
<th>High P Score</th>
<th>High F Score</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>You have a clear sense of self.</td>
<td>You probably look after the needs of others as much or even more than your own.</td>
<td>You seek a certain lifestyle or standard of living.</td>
<td>You probably like your job mostly for its financial benefits.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whether you are yet a disciplined saver or not, you know that financial security can be a key to personal fulfillment.</td>
<td>You seek to work and play with people you care about.</td>
<td>You value prosperity in order to enjoy material goods and comfort.</td>
<td>When you spend money or invest, knowing you are getting value gives you pleasure.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You “invest” in self-expression, seek your own sense of purpose and want an environment that reflects “who you really are.”</td>
<td>You probably make financial decisions mostly to nurture relationships.</td>
<td>Your main goal in earning and spending is to enjoy life in your home and surroundings.</td>
<td>You make financial plans for long-term security and short-term goals.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You are concerned with doing whatever you can to achieve your goals and make your dreams come true.</td>
<td>You budget with the needs and well-being of loved ones in mind.</td>
<td>As you invest in your savings and retirement accounts, you are likely to be planning for a comfortable future with the time and place where you can enjoy your retirement lifestyle.</td>
<td>Your financial decisions are “hands on.”</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You are more concerned with your own future well being with less regard for others’ needs or demands.</td>
<td>You might make investment and other financial choices because trusted individuals advise you to do so.</td>
<td>If you’ve been spending too much, better start saving NOW.</td>
<td>You also value accuracy, organization, and discipline in the financial professionals and organizations that you deal with.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Your financial goals involve family and/or your community.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>
if you scored 4 or below in a particular domain, the following Table 2, Low Scores can help you see how that particular part of the decision making process is playing a minor (but possibly important) role in your choices.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Low I Score</th>
<th>Low S Score</th>
<th>Low P Score</th>
<th>Low F Score</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>You might be a little out of</td>
<td>You may be a loner and tend to</td>
<td>Material pleasures and consumables have little</td>
<td>Budgeting is annoying to you, and you have little</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>touch with your need for</td>
<td>make financial decisions-wise</td>
<td>interest for you. Others might question your</td>
<td>interest in investing or in balancing your</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>personal expression,</td>
<td>or not- in your own self</td>
<td>lifestyle, but you are more focused on</td>
<td>accounts.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>perhaps staying in a job</td>
<td>interests. You spend your money</td>
<td>people or job satisfaction than on keeping up</td>
<td>Your spending is aimed at rewarding</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>with little fulfillment.</td>
<td>on lifestyle, or the need for</td>
<td>with the Joneses. You are likely to spend on</td>
<td>relationships or comfortable lifestyle; job</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>self-expression, but it is not</td>
<td>behalf of others or in order to ensure your</td>
<td>satisfaction drives your work.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>related to the needs or wants of</td>
<td>safety or self-expression.</td>
<td>You might be susceptible to impulsive buying.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>others. You save to honor personal</td>
<td></td>
<td>You are probably not a faithful saver unless</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>goals rather than to ensure a</td>
<td></td>
<td>you establish automatic systems to do this for</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>certain type of family or</td>
<td></td>
<td>you.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>community lifestyle in your</td>
<td></td>
<td>Money topics are not likely to be enjoyable to</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>retirement years.</td>
<td></td>
<td>read or discuss.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>

Table 2. Low Scores
Applying Life Value Principles in Your Clinic or Center

You will be enriched as a leader by using this simple exercise to help others reflect and communicate their deeply held values—sometimes values they never knew they had. As you continue to learn about your own decision-making style and think about what matters to you in life, interaction with your colleagues, staff members and customers should greatly improve.

Awareness gives us more information about how we are influenced by the social realities that surround us. At the same time we begin to resist those social influences that prevent us from living life and handling our affairs according to our own core values. (The LifeValues Profile Quiz also can be an excellent tool to consult whenever you are facing a major personal life decision: career change, buying a home, retiring, taking over the care of an aging parent, or any planned or unplanned major life transition.)

Too often, we can get caught up in the momentum of these emotion-laden decisions without thinking them through. Before we know the whys of our own decision making, we might have made irreversible choices that later “do not feel right” to us and have unhappy consequences. Grounding your choices in your values can help to prevent and avoid poor life decisions.

Changing LifeValues

Your Profile can shift over time, and your preferences might vary in response to the particular issues or opportunities facing you at any given time. In addition, your own profile is likely to be very different from that of your colleagues, staff members and others central to your decisions. Such a situation should be considered carefully.

Your decision making style might be undermining your internal and external relationships. If you are not able to think over and consider accounting for LifeValues differences, chances are good that your decisions are negatively impacting what you may be trying to accomplish.