

Credentialing Resources Available on the Clinical Risk Management Website

Investigation, review, and ongoing evaluation of a provider's skills, education, and experiences through the processes of credentialing and clinical privileging are among the most important responsibilities of health centers and free clinics. In order to help health centers and free clinics develop and maintain effective credentialing and privileging processes, ECRI Institute, on behalf of the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), created a Credentialing Toolkit that health centers and free clinics can download and adapt for their own use. The toolkit includes:

- Sample Credentialing and Privileging Policy
- Credentialing: Step-by-Step Process
- Credentialing Timeline
- Credentialing Application Packet
- Credentialing List
- Flowchart 1: Initial Credentialing Process
- Flowchart 2: Initial Privileging Process
- Flowchart 3: Renewal of Credentials and Privileges
- Peer Review/Chart Review
- Peer Review Checklist
- Peer Review Acknowledgement Form
- Peer Review Completion Checklist
- Provider Peer Review Tool

In addition to the toolkit, ECRI Institute has several other credentialing and privileging resources including:
